

FINAL ROLL OF RESCUED
PRACTICALLY MADE UP

NO MORE NAMES ADDED TO LIST OF RESCUED FROM SINKING SHIP.

Although Rescue Ships Reported Within Wireless Range of Stations No Word of Great Disaster Received--868 Survivors Now on Way to New York.

That the final roll of the rescued from the Titanic disaster has been practically made up was the impression that grew almost into conviction last night as the hours wore on without the revision of lists adding measurably to the total of known survivors. Of definite news of the disaster the night added little. Down the Atlantic coast, fog enveloped in many places, as the reports showed, crept the Cunard liner Carpathia, bearing the 868 rescued from the waters when the Titanic's twenty boats, laden to their limit, one by one left the sinking liner.

But although the rescue ship was reported within wireless range of the Sable Island station at a comparatively early hour and every wireless operator was waiting to catch the snap of a receiver which might mean that the great secret of the liner's death was about to be given up, midnight came and went and still the word had not been spoken.

Carefully compiling the available lists, the record of the named survivors of the disaster stands significantly thus:

Men	739
Women	233
Children	16

Total 868
Of the remaining 540 known to survive, it is estimated that not more than 100 were seamen.

This would leave approximately 440, and in the ordinary proportions of women and children in the steerage, where the passengers of the Titanic's care numbered 710, it is probable that the great part of these 440 were women and their "little ones."

Display of Heroism.
Nothing could show more plainly the heroism of the crew and the men passengers who stood by the doomed ship, facing practically inevitable death and sent the women and children away in the life boats. Some would have to be left; that was a certainty. Hundreds in fact were left. But to all appearances "the men who were left stayed behind deliberately, calmly stepping aside to let the weaker ones, those to whom they owed protection, take their way to safety."

Final Message.
"Sinking by the head. Have cleared boats and filled them with women and children."

This was the final message these brave men sent the world, for it was directly afterward that their wireless signals sputtered and then stopped altogether. The picture that inevitably presents itself in view of what is known, is of men like John Jacob Astor, master of scores of millions; Benjamin Guggenheim, of the famous family of bankers; Isidor Straus, a merchant prince; William T. Stead, a veteran journalist; Major Archibald Butt, soldier; Washington Roebling, noted engineer—of any or all of these men stepping aside and bravely, gallantly remaining to die that the place he otherwise might have filled could perhaps be taken by some sailor, shawl-enshrouded illiterate and penniless peasant woman of Europe.

Women Filled up Boats.
Thus the stream of women with toddling infants or babies in arms, perhaps most of them soon to be widowed, fled up to the cabins and over the side and away to life. The men—by far the greater part of them—remained to die, millionaire and peasant and man of middle class alike, bravely sharing each other's fate and going down to a common grave.

Of the survivors—what? Their story of peril of suffering with the revelation they will furnish of what happened on board the stricken ocean giant, still remains to be told. Quickly they will be able to tell it, and clear up the mysteries of identity which the limited carrying capacity of the Carpathia's wireless has left the world in doubt, seemed tonight to depend largely upon at most a few words.

Other Methods Used.
The weather was thick on the coast last night, not only interfering, it is believed, with wireless communication from the liner to Sable Island, but probably with her rate of progress toward New York whither she is heading. Meanwhile other methods of communicating with her than by the land stations are being tried.

From the Virginia Coast the scout cruisers Salem and Chester, armed with powerful wireless apparatus, are speeding toward the Carpathia and before very many hours have elapsed, it is hoped they will be close touch with her.

All hope that some of the Titanic's survivors might be on board either the steamer Parisian or the Virginia had to be abandoned late yesterday when it was definitely learned that neither steamer had picked up any one from the big liner.

Search for Bodies.
Search for bodies in the vicinity of the disaster, it was learned tonight, will be taken up by the White Star line from Halifax, where the cable steamer Mackay-Bennett has been chartered to proceed to the scene and remain until further orders, searching for bodies that may come to the surface.

Up to 1:30 o'clock this morning, so far as could be learned at any of the coast stations no syllable of tidings had come from the Carpathia since she was able by the aid of the Olympic's relay many hours before she sent waveringly ashore a list of names of first and second cabin Titanic survivors which she had on board. It is thought—feared, would be the better word—that this list is now practically complete.

As for the rest, direct advices from Sable Island reported that weather conditions were bad for transmission and that only faint communication was had with the ship, she being barely within range of call. It was thought, too, that the wireless operator on the Carpathia had become fatigued from his long seige at the key of the liner's wireless and that he was resting, preparing for the transmission of messages when the ship comes into communication with stations on the American coast.

Hope Revived.
New York, April 17.—Hope that some of the passengers of the Titanic not taken on board the Carpathia may have been saved was revived early today, when the captain of the freighter Ultonia of the Phoenix Line, which docked about mid-night, reported that he had passed along the route taken by the Titanic and that a number of fishing boats were in the vicinity headed toward Halifax. He said he thought it not improbable that some of the passengers might have secured life preservers and possibly were rescued by the fishing vessels. The Ultonia is not equipped with wireless.

More Than Double Required.
London, April 16.—The board of trade regulation requires that a vessel of 10,000 tons shall carry a minimum of 16 boats. There are regulations applying to vessels of great tonnage. The Titanic had nearly double the accommodations required by the board of trade. It is stated in Belfast that the Titanic carried 14 life boats each accommodating 65 persons, two cutters and a number of collapsible boats or rafts.

There appears to be a general idea here that many of the collapsible boats and rafts carried by the Titanic were sucked down in the vortex of the sinking liner. Much satisfaction is expressed at the decision of the Atlantic liners to adopt the southerly route.

The Times editorially asks whether competition in the mere magnitude of ships has not gone quite far enough. The Times expresses the opinion that unbridled luxury, which makes such mammoth vessels pay and the speed competition which leads to the selection of track full of ice, fog and dangers, instead of a slower, safer track, are not commendable, and the time has arrived to bring sane and sound public opinion to bear on these questions.

The Latest Word.
Newport, R. I., April 17.—In a message to the naval station this morning the commander of the Scout Cruiser Chester said:
"Expect to be up with Carpathia within three or four hours."
The Chester has been calling the Carpathia regularly every 10 minutes during the night, but has been unable to get any answer.
The Salem is off Hog Island and making futile endeavors to get into communication with the Chester,

FAINT HOPE REMAINS

Less Hopeful Feeling Prevailed That Any of People Left on Steamer Were Rescued.

New York, April 16.—Only a faint hope remains tonight that any of the 1,302 passengers and crew who have been missing since the giant Titanic sank have been picked up by trans-Atlantic liners. The 868 survivors rescued from life boats by the Cunard Carpathia now on her way to this city, are the only known saved. The brief and meager wireless messages that came to hand today practically extinguished hope that some of the ill-fated passengers may have been picked up at sea by the steamships Virginian and Parisian of the Allan line. Both of these steamers sent word that they had none of the Titanic's survivors on board. Of the 568 persons rescued by the Carpathia, the names of 326 passengers had been received by wireless up to 4:30 o'clock. The Carpathia evidently was out of wireless range toward noon, for after that efforts to reach her with wireless communications were futile and a score or more of messages from the Cunard company and other sources were unanswered.

Statement by Franklin.
At 5 o'clock this afternoon, Vice-President Franklin of the White Star line said that so far as he knew the Olympic was still standing by the Carpathia to relay wireless messages. He added that he had received no word from the Olympic since 4 o'clock this morning and had been unable to get either the Carpathia or the Olympic by wireless.

Mr. Franklin said also that the steamship companies crossing the Atlantic had entered into an agreement to abandon the short northern route in favor of the southern route as long as icebergs were reported in the pathway of the former course. The dispatch from Montreal saying that hope was still entertained that the Parisian might have aboard some of the Titanic's survivors, Mr. Franklin characterized as "a ridiculous report." He added that "in my opinion neither the Parisian nor the Virginian has any survivors aboard."

The Titanic was insured for $5,000,000, Mr. Franklin said. On the ship, he added, the White Star line would lose about $3,000,000. "This will be the smallest part of our loss," he added. Captain Roston of the Carpathia in his last wireless report to the Cunard company stated that his vessel was proceeding slowly through a field of ice to this port.

Cruisers Sent Out.
President Taft late this afternoon directed the secretary of navy to order the Scout Cruisers Salem and Chester to the scene at once from Hampton roads to meet the Carpathia and send in by wireless to the government a complete list of the Titanic's survivors. The Chester was caught by wireless about 40 miles off the Chesapeake Capes and by 4 o'clock was steaming northward, 20 knots an hour, aiming to get as quickly as possible into touch with steamers having news bearing on the disaster.

Two revenue cutters also were notified to stand in readiness to proceed to the Carpathia if necessary. In the event that the Salem had not sufficient coal, instructions were given to despatch the cruiser North Carolina instead.

A possible chance of obtaining news bearing upon the disaster developed early this evening when the Leyland liner Californian came into the zone of wireless communication with Sable Island. The Californian was reported at the scene of the disaster shortly after the Titanic went down and it was thought probable that she could have valuable information to communicate.

Captain Roston of the Carpathia has been instructed to send full details of the sinking of the Titanic.

Throngs Swarm Offices.
All day fearful and anxious throngs swarmed the offices of the White Star line and overflowed into Broadway, stopping traffic at times and kept office reserves busy maintaining order.

Col. John Jacob Astor is believed to be among those drowned. His wife and her maid are safe on the Carpathia. Isidor Straus, the millionaire merchant, Benjamin Guggenheim, the copper magnate, and Edgar J. Meyer, vice president of the Braden Copper company, are still unaccounted for.

Whether Charles M. Hayes, president of the Grand Trunk railroad, was saved was not known tonight. His name was not reported among those rescued by the Carpathia. A Canadian dispatch early in the day stated that Mr. Hayes was saved. His wife and daughter were rescued. The treasury department, through the customs office, has given orders to expedite the landing of the survivors of the Titanic and to aid them in every way possible upon the arrival of the Carpathia. Customs regulations have been suspended and the customs offices will aid the survivors in finding relatives and friends.

Vice President Franklin said this afternoon that his list of survivors showed that 202 out of 326 first cabin passengers and 114 out of 285 second cabin passengers of the wrecked liner had been accounted for.

Charles B. Sumner of the Cunard line said tonight that he believed the Carpathia was within 60 or 70 miles of the Titanic when she struck the iceberg.
Mr. Sumner, who had vainly tried to reach the Carpathia by wireless during the afternoon said he had no way of telling just where the Carpathia was at this time, but thought she was steaming for New York. She might be within the New York wireless telegraph zone and able to send messages late tonight or tomorrow morning, he said, but added that he

NOT PROPERLY EQUIPPED.

Captain of Titanic Protested Against Lack of Life Saving Apparatus.

Chicago, April 16.—That Captain Edward J. Smith of the Titanic believed that the steamer was not properly equipped with life boats and other saving apparatus and that he protested, without success, against lack of precaution, was the statement made by Glen Marsten, a friend of the captain, here tonight. Marsten said that while returning from Europa on the Olympic in company with Captain Smith he remarked on the small number of life boats carried by such a large passenger steamer. It was then, according to Marsten, that Captain Smith spoke of the life preserving equipment of the Titanic, then in course of construction, being limited.

"I noticed the small number of boats and rafts aboard for the heavy passenger-carrying capacity of the ship and remarked on it to Captain Smith," said Marsten.

"Yes," he replied, "if the ship would strike an iceberg that would cut through several of the watertight compartments we have not enough boats or rafts aboard to take care of more than one-third of the passengers."

"The Titanic, too, is no better equipped. It ought to carry at least double the number of boats and rafts that it does to afford any real protection to the passengers."

Marsten further quoted Captain Smith as saying he thought the lack of equipment for saving lives was not due to a desire of the steamship line owners to save money, but rather because they believed their ships to be safe. Life boats were thought to be required, said the captain, only in cases in which passengers were to be brought from other ships in distress or passengers were to be landed. "The wisest men have," said Marsten, "that enough boats and rafts should be carried to insure safety to every passenger in case of an accident."

GREAT BATTLE FOR NEWS.

Wireless Station on Lonely Island Is Storm Center.

Halifax, April 16.—Sable Island, so long the terror of trans-Atlantic sailors tonight is the storm center of a great battle for news of the missing passengers and crew of the Titanic. The wireless station on the lonely sand-driven island in the Atlantic, 120 miles southeast of Halifax, is maintained by the Canadian government, and is one of the most important of the chain of wireless outposts on the Atlantic coast. It has made the island, known as the "radio island," the radiating center of news which comes and goes between the passing liners and the shore. The wireless equipment has a range of 300 miles. Tonight the Allan liner Parisian is abreast of the island headed for Halifax and the Cunard Carpathia, which bears the secret of the Titanic, is approaching within range of communication of the Atlantic, the radiating center of news which comes and goes between the passing liners and the shore. had merely advanced this as a supposition.

Will Come to New York.

When asked regarding a rumor that the Carpathia might put into Boston and land her rescued passengers there, Mr. Sumner replied that there was nothing in the report. Had there been but a few of the rescued ones this might have been done, he said, but it was his opinion that with more than 800 survivors on board the captain of the Carpathia would make direct for this afternoon that his list of survivors showed that 202 out of 326 first cabin passengers and 114 out of 285 second cabin passengers of the wrecked liner had been accounted for.

LIFE SAVING QUESTION

Federal Steamship Inspection Service Was Awaiting Arrival of Titanic to See If Law Was Complied With.

Washington, April 16.—The federal steamship inspection service was awaiting the arrival of the Titanic for examination to see that she complied with the English law with regard to life-saving equipment. If the vessel had been of American register it would have been obliged to have life boats or life rafts containing accommodations for 2,347 persons.

Had Twenty Boats.
London, April 16.—In response to a telegram of inquiry as to the number of boats carried by the Titanic, and how many persons they would accommodate, the White Star company at Liverpool sends the following message:
"The Titanic had twenty boats, which is in excess of the official requirements."

The board of trade regulations permit a reduction by half in the number of boats, rafts and life-saving apparatus when the ship is provided with watertight compartments. According to some experts it would be an impossibility to carry a sufficient number of boats to accommodate all on board the mammoth liners or if carried that it would be next to impossible to man and provision them.

The Titanic was fitted with electrically controlled watertight compartments. These should have been immediately closed from the bridge unless the collision damaged the electrical apparatus or the vessel's side was torn away by an iceberg.

The sinking of the Titanic, following as closely the wreck of the Delhi, Oceanic, and other big vessels has caused consternation among the marine underwriters. It will be long before the full effect in insurance of various kinds at Lloyd's and syndicates may be hard hit.

Instructions were issued today that all Cunard steamships should follow the southern route owing to the ice.

FOR LOVE OF SISTERS.

Woman Probably Lost Her Life in Titanic Disaster.

Chicago, April 16.—Love for two younger sisters probably caused the death of Mrs. Alice Johnson of St. Charles, Ill., one of the steerage passengers on the Titanic. It is possible that two of her children and her two sisters, Marie and Louise Anderson, perished.

Mrs. Johnson recently went to her old home in Sweden. Her two young sisters sailed with her for America, all taking steerage passage. Her despatches do not mention the saving of any steerage passengers.

Not until today, when he received a letter from his wife, did her husband, Oscar W. Johnson, know she was returning on the Titanic. He was prostrated.

Has No Survivors.
Cape Race, April 16.—A wireless message tonight from Captain Haddock of the steamship Olympic relayed by the Celtic, reads as follows:
"The Virginian has none of the Titanic's passengers. Neither has the Tunisian. I believe that the only survivors are on the Carpathia. The second, third, fourth and fifth officers and the second Marconi operator are the only officers reported saved."

TWO VOTES FOR WILSON.

Chicago, April 16.—Governor Woodrow Wilson will receive two Illinois votes in the Democratic national convention at Baltimore if the result of the presidential primary vote in the sixteenth congressional district is respected at the Democratic state convention at Peoria on Friday.

A Berlin cable in which the state convention is to be held, was carried by Governor Wilson 2,917 to 1,191, while Tazewell county went for him 1,184 to 624.

The total vote in the district was Wilson 4,986 and Clark 3,883. All other districts in the state went to Clark.

ILLINOIS CITY ELECTIONS.
Chicago, April 16.—Following changes in the saloon situation resulted from the municipal elections in Illinois today.

Shelbyville, in Shelby county, voted to oust saloons, and Herscher, in Kankakee county, voted to change from dry to wet.

Incest centered in the elections at Aurora and Canton. At Aurora the commission form of government was rejected by a heavy vote. In Canton, a non-partisan ticket defeated the Socialists by a narrow margin.

SOCIALISTS OUT OF OFFICE.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 16.—Two years of Socialist administration in Milwaukee ended this afternoon when Dr. Gerhard A. Bading, elected mayor on a non-partisan ticket, took office. Mayor Bading's inaugural address to the new non-partisan council, recommended that the council take action toward petitioning the legislature to enact, at the coming special session, a law providing for non-partisan elections in cities of the first class in the state. In conclusion, criticizing the outgoing Socialist administration, he said:

"The extravagance and inefficiency which have characterized the city government during the last two years are responsible for the high taxes levied last year."

FIGHT IS OFF.

Oakland, Cal., April 16.—The proposed ten round bout between middle weight Eddie McGoorty and "Kid" George, April 20, is off. McGoorty wired from the east canceling the date because of illness in his family.

BROOKLYN MEN

Members of the Bible Class Finely Entertain Guests at Banquet.

Last week Brooklyn's versatile pastor, Rev. Henry S. Alkire, shouldered his gun and hid him to the river in company with Dr. Duncan and Ed Spink in pursuit of ducks and certainly they had good success.
Not being willing to enjoy such a good thing alone the worthy minister told the Men's Bible class to get up a duck banquet with the spoils of his chase and invite some friends and they did it last night with fine results. A goodly company gathered and sat about a table well loaded with good things which were greatly enjoyed. Mr. Alkire presided and requested Dr. A. A. White to invoke the divine blessing and then came the discussion of the most important number on the program, the bill of fare. There was an abundance of delicious roast duck well served and the way it disappeared was a caution and showed that all about the board had brought along good appetites.

In the absence of the expected musician the company sang "America" and then Mr. Alkire took the chair.
Throughout the entire evening his management of the chairmanship of the occasion was most happy. His introductions were interspersed with apt and humorous anecdotes, good natured jokes calculated to arouse a laugh but to hurt no one and did his part in an ideal manner.

President W. E. Thomson of the Men's Bible class welcomed the guests and spoke most pleasantly of the Sunday school work urging all not connected with any other school to attend and remarking that when the men of a church were well aroused something was likely to be done.
Of the addresses which followed only a meager outline is practicable owing to the lateness of the hour.
Every speaker manifested a cordial regard for the hosts of the evening and dwelt with enthusiasm on the subject assigned.

The first speaker was T. M. Tomlinson, president of the Men's Brotherhood of State Street church. He told how glad he was to be present and complimented the reverend marksmen of the good success he had had with his unerring gun. He told of his experience at a meeting of presbytery and his pleasure in attending such gatherings as the one last night. His greetings to the Brooklyn Brotherhood was most cordial.

Rev. Mr. Riggs of Beardstown was unavoidably absent.

The theme of the evening was a symposium on citizenship viewed from different standpoints. The first speaker was S. R. Capps, a gentleman highly honored in the church and community. His spoke of the theme from the standpoint of a business man. There were three important elements in the matter. First was residence. He was a resident of the United States, of Illinois, of Jacksonville. There was no bond so strong as that of the family. It was instituted by the Maker in the Garden of Eden and the highest felicity is in the happy home. From Christian homes come the bulwarks of the nation. Then there is loyalty, obedience to law, seeking the welfare of the land. The anarchist has no land and no love for his country but would destroy all. Then there is love of country and home. The Bedouin loves the desert; the Irishman, the Scottishman, the German, the Frenchman, the Swiss all love their country and so should we love ours, for it is the best on earth. Our duty as citizens is to foster all that is good; to act the man, to attend primaries, seek the best men for office and in every way seek the greatest welfare of the land and as business men set the stamp of approval on all that is good.

S. W. Nichols spoke of the editor
as a citizen.

The next speaker was Capt. T. A.
Smith of White Hall, an honored guest of the evening, and his remarks were from the soldier's standpoint. The gentleman was indeed well qualified to speak from the theme and his remarks were wonderfully well received. He told in graphic terms of the citizen soldiers of the civil war, the scenes in which the boys went to Camp Butler and drilled for weeks; then to the front, where still they were citizens;
then of the awful baptism of fire they endured at Pittsburg Landing or Shiloh. He was a participant in that engagement and in eloquent terms told of the fearful scenes enacted on that bloody field. Many have answered the last roll call and many will soon go and have left a grand record of loyalty and patriotism.

A fine address was made by Prof.
W. A. Parr on the citizen as an educator. He said one prime object of the education should be to make the citizen prepare to make a living and next to let others do the same. Some are too selfish to do this. A well educated man should be helpful in the church, in the lodge, in society and wherever he is placed. If we had no churches life would not be worth living. The educated man should be sober, industrious, enterprising, use his education for the welfare of the community, for the improvement of the home and in exercising his right to make a society better and use the culture of mind for the welfare of all.

Mr. Spink was asked to tell something about that hunting expedition and humorously narrated some of the experiences of the trio of whom he was one. He paid a fine tribute to the reverend mired and pronounced him all right. He was also very thankful to be present and help eat
the fruits of that hunt.

Dr. Duncan, another of the three told also of the pleasant time and then added some timely remarks on the great importance of sanitation; destruction of the pestiferous house fly, the danger of contagion from careless persons of the part of the sick and other things. He paid a fine tribute to the entertainers.

The Acme of Perfection

SLEEPY-EYE FLOUR is to other flours what porterhouse steak is to round steak, or what cream is to skimmed milk. In quality it is head and shoulders above the best flour on the market.

Sleepy-Eye Flour might cost you a little more than any other flour you have ever used, but you will find the difference in the sack.

Sleepy-Eye Cream Flour has all the muscle-building, blood-making, hunger-satisfying and appetizing qualities of the bread made in the days when father rode a horse to mill to have his what ground, and in addition to that, the bread made from Sleepy-Eye Cream Flour is also unequaled in its perfect smoothness of texture and its beautiful bloom.

Sleepy-Eye Flour makes the softest, creamiest most velvety loaf of bread you ever saw and as appetizing.

One feature of Sleepy-Eye Cream Flour that will be appreciated by every person who makes bread is that it takes less kneading than other flour.

Dough made from Sleepy-Eye Cream Flour can be kneaded to a perfect extent in less time and with less labor than is possible with any other flour.
Use Sleepy-Eye Cream Flour and save your arms.

GIRLS COLOR RETURNS.

Was Pale and Sickly Last Spring.

Every girl is with five dollars.

It is an old saying among people who think that the impurities of the blood escape when a girl breaks out. But that is a great mistake. A girl is only a sign of impure blood and has no purifying power. The only thing to do is to enrich and vivify the blood and the best thing for this is Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron preparation without oil.

Other signs of bad blood are pale skin, weakness, nervousness and run down condition of the system.

Miss Alice Jones, a bright young girl of Richmond Hill, N. Y., was pale and weak for months. She began taking Vinol and it not only made her well and strong, but also brought back her healthy color.

She also says "I like to take Vinol

as the taste is pleasant."

This is the very best time of year to put your blood in good order and build up your system, and we guarantee that Vinol will do this. If it does not, we give back your money.

The Really Latest Styles— Those Fresh From Paris—

are only in the Pictorial Review Spring Fashion Book. It can't help being that way—for the Pictorial Review pattern business is the big part of the American Fashion Company, which supplies (as it has for twenty years past), the cloak and suit manufacturers with all their advance models. These manufacturers must have their styles three or four months before the retail selling season opens, so as to get their goods made up, so you will see why Pictorial Review fashions are offered you perhaps even before dry goods stores put the newest models on sale. This is also why Pictorial Review patterns are

Sixty to Ninety Days Ahead

of all others—you could easily convince yourself, as have thousands of other women, by comparing all the pattern publications. If you do, just notice the numerous Pictorial Review styles for draped skirts, the latest waists, the new cutaway jackets—as against the one or two partially new or "warmed over" models shown by others. This leads us to say

When you select your patterns from the Pictorial Review Spring Fashion Book you do not run the risk of having your dress out of date as soon as it is made.

Pictorial Review Patterns, Too, Are Superior to All Others. Here are the Reasons

With each Pictorial Review pattern is a patented Construction Guide, showing how to produce a perfectly fitting garment with absolute certainty. There can be no home-made look about a garment made from Pictorial Review patterns; it looks right—fits right and stays right.

Because of these Guides, there is great economy in using Pictorial Review Patterns. Other pattern makers, who can use no Cutting Guide, realize that you won't lay out the material as carefully as a professional cutter, so they allow an extra half-yard or so of material to compensate for your possible mistakes. You always pay for this extra material when you use other patterns—but with Pictorial Review patterns you save your goods.

These two guides, both FREE, are given only with Pictorial Review patterns.

TEAM RETURNS FROM CHICAGO

Delaware Tribe I. O. R. M., No. 78.
Highly Complimented for Work
Put on—Dennis McCarty Presented Charg.

All of the members of the degree team of Delaware Tribe of Red Men and visiting brethren are expected home from Chicago by this morning. Some of the men returned Tuesday morning. On every side praise was heard of the trip and everyone seemed to enjoy it to the highest degree.

The work was put on the Masonic hall. Calumet lodge has about 300 men and many visiting brethren from the other nine lodges of Chicago were present to see the work exemplified on the 70 candidates. The degree team had all new paraphernalia, with 1,600 feet of canvas scenery painted by Samuel Armstrong. After the work was over the Chicago members stated that they had never seen anything equal to the Delaware Tribe's efforts. So fascinating was some of the work that it had to be repeated. The Jacksonville men even took along their own rigging for lights and did their own electrical work. A vote of thanks was extended the visitors for the exemplification of the work.

Preceding the degree work the visitors were shown about the city and were extended every courtesy. Upon their arrival in Chicago they were served breakfast and it was here that Dennis McCarty was presented a charm, in recognition of the many scouts he had secured for Delaware tribe. The presentation speech was made by Great Sachem McGarran of Chicago and Mr. McCarty was so much surprised that he could scarcely make a response. Responses to address of welcome by Great Sachem were made by J. P. Brennan, great keeper of records and seals, and Mayor George W. Davis.

Not much time was left for the social hour following the work. The visitors were assured that their mastery of the art of exemplifying the work would not soon be forgotten and brief talks were made by Mayor Davis, Andrew Russell and J. P. Brennan. O. M. Capps, formerly of this city, but now of Joliet, was also among the guests present. The Chicago men expressed a great desire to accept the invitation to visit the local Jacksonville lodge.

GRAHAM ANSWERS

Charged That Mann Knowingly Uttered a Falsehood in His Effort to Discredit Him.

Washington, April 16.—For the purpose of making the flat charge that Mr. Mann, the minority leader, "knowingly" had uttered a deliberate falsehood in an effort to discredit him, Representative Graham of Illinois, chairman of the house interior department expenditures committee, took the floor to day and delivered a bitter assault on his colleague. The attack grew out of Mr. Mann's allegations of a few days ago that Chairman Graham had befriended and advised Mrs. Helen Pierce Gray, alleged by him to be a woman lobbyist, active in Indian legislation.

An affidavit, which Mr. Mann had said proved his allegations, was read by Mr. Graham, who said it was not proof nor was it an affidavit, as Mr. Mann had alleged.

Mr. Graham, shaking his clenched fist at Mr. Mann declared that he was justified in the belief that Mr. Mann was trying to get these charges before the county, when he had knowledge that they were "absolutely false."

"He charged that Mr. Mann virtually had falsified the records in the case. While Mr. Mann was pilloried he sat grimly in his seat and made no interruption."

Representative Graham charged that Senator Gamble of South Dakota, chairman of the senate committee on Indian affairs, was at the bottom of the conspiracy to discredit the house Indian committee, which he could not control and that documents on which Mr. Mann based his charge had been furnished by Senator Gamble, through Representative Burke of South Dakota, whom Mr. Graham designated as a "traitor."

Mr. Mann said that common decency demanded investigation of the whole affair. No action was taken.

Japanese . Crab . Meat

The strangely delicious flavor of the Orient, the distinctive flavor and the remarkably attractive appearance makes it ideal for luncheons, entrees or suppers. As these crabs are caught alive and packed immediately they are absolutely a pure food. As no ordinary crab compares in taste with the Japanese crab meat, so also ordinary crabs do not compare with them in appetizing appearance.

BRIBERY PRACTISED

Office Holders Who Seek Renomination Said to be Intimidated by Roosevelt Managers.

Washington, April 16.—The Taft National Bureau issued today a statement in part as follows:

"In the far west many instances have been called to the attention of President Taft's managers, where Gifford Pinchot has demanded of his own personal appointees in the forest service a discharge of obligation in the form of support of Roosevelt in this campaign."

"Furthermore, it is a matter of official record, and the Taft National Bureau has the document to prove it, that Senator Duncanson, Mr. Roosevelt's campaign manager, is personally preparing to oppose for re-nomination in the senate of the United States federal office-holders who have openly stated they favor the renomination of President Taft. In other words, intimidation if not direct bribery is being practiced by Mr. Roosevelt's own personal representative in his national headquarters."

LECTURE ON SOCIALISM.

"Socialism, What it is and how to get it" was the subject of a lecture given Tuesday evening by Oscar Ameringer of Oklahoma City, in the Socialists hall, to a large audience. Mr. Ameringer is a very pleasing and intellectual speaker and his addresses are always interspersed with epigrams that convey the various ideas of his subject. Mr. Ameringer stated that "when industry is monopolized their main aim is destruction of labor unions as union is only the means of securing a half way decent living."

Not only work classes, but middle classes are effected by the trust. The trust makes a low cost of production and raised cost of living, making enormous large profits, which must be used up in frivolous ways. Trusts are good to those on the inside, but bad to those on the outside. How will we get on the inside? It will be by confiscation, or renumeration, just as the majority of voters decide when they vote socialism into power. The speaker explained the defeat of the Socialist administration in Milwaukee, showing how the vote had been swung and of the determination of this organization to get control two years hence and hold it.

Mr. Ameringer will lecture again this evening and all will be cordially welcomed. His subject will be "Social Evolution." The speaker will also favor the audience with musical selections in company with the Hoffman sisters. No admission is charged.

Samuel Blumling and Robert Willard were visitors in the city from Concord yesterday.

THINKS HE IS GOING TO WIN

IF HE DOESN'T THERE WILL BE THREE YEARS OF WAR.

Declaration Made by Col. Roosevelt in Dozen Speeches He Delivered in Illinois and Iowa—Begins Campaign in Nebraska Today.

Creston, Iowa, April 16.—"I think we are going to win the fight this year," said Col. Roosevelt today, "but if we don't we are in for three years of the war."

The colonel made this declaration in one of a dozen speeches which he delivered to day. He spent the day on the way to Nebraska, in which state he is to begin a two days' campaign tomorrow. The only break in the journey was an automobile ride in Chicago during the brief interval between his arrival there from New York and his departure for the west.

Although Col. Roosevelt had expected to make no speeches to day crowds were waiting to see him at a number of places in Illinois and Iowa. He gave short talks from the train at Aurora, Mendota, Princeton and Galesburg, Ill., and at Burlington, Mount Pleasant, Fairfield, Ottumwa, Albia, Chariton and Osceola in Iowa.

"I wish you had a presidential primary in Iowa as they have in Illinois and Pennsylvania," he told the crowd at Burlington. "I am more than content to put my case before the people and trust to their decision. But I am not content to put my case before the politicians and trust to their decisions, as they are the people I intend to move against."

In his Iowa speech, Col. Roosevelt said that he would come to this state to make a campaign if there were presidential primaries here. "Here you are," he said, "one of the great typical American states, you can't express your own opinion, you let the postmasters and bosses represent you and Iowa is not the factor in this contest which it should be; but Illinois and Pennsylvania are. There is no use in talking in Iowa, because if you should decide for me, somebody else would cast your vote for you. If we had had direct primaries in New York we would have done as we did in Illinois. We are the genuine Abraham Lincoln Republicans."

In several speeches Col. Roosevelt pledged himself to live up to his promises.

"I will guarantee to do everything I can do," he said at Galesburg, "and live up to Illinois. Believe in me, I never say anything on the stump that I don't carry off the stump."

Col. Roosevelt's first speech tomorrow is set for Hastings, Neb., thence he goes to Grand Island and to Omaha for a speech in the evening.

To tomorrow night he will go to Nebraska City and in the evening will speak at Lincoln.

MANY VISITORS TO GYPSY CAMP

Foreigners Stopping at Cocking Lot Attract Large Crowds of Spectators—Sixteen Families in Company.

Hundreds of people visited the camp of the gypsies at Cocking's lot, on Webster avenue Tuesday, and the manner of life among these people indeed affords an interesting study. While some in the company claim to be Bulgarians, the most are Brazilians, the heads of the families having come from South America about twenty years ago. There are sixteen or more families in the company here and the number of children in each is very large.

The foreigners say that they left East St. Louis about ten days ago and they are going north, some up into Canada, while the most of them are going to Chicago to be present at the inauguration of the clans from all over the country. The king of the gypsies is said to be there now to meet and greet his people as they arrive. He is said to be the owner of a large farm in Canada. These people live very close to nature. While yesterday was a cool, raw day, it was astonishing how scantily they were clad. A baby's head and bare shoulders could be seen protruding from a feather bed placed out in the open air. Later it developed that the child's clothing was in the wash and it was thus protecting itself against the cold air, while its mother was getting its only garment ready for it to wear again. One of the women in the camp was seen, also, to take a child, and, after removing from it all its clothing, dash buckets of cold water on it. This was its morning bath. From the appearance of all in the party, unkempt as they are, they seem not to feel heat or cold.

There is no old man, about 80 years old in the party and he is very weak and feeble. Tuesday he was lying on a mattress, which rested on the ground, and close by his side, all day, sat an old woman, who seemed very devoted and attentive to him.

The principal item in the noonday meal was a large pot of tea around which the family congregated, dipping in bread and eating most heartily.

While various rumors were circulated again yesterday concerning the foreigners, accusing them of stealing and pilfering, it was later learned that the stories circulated were false and that no one had been molested. The gypsies seem to be very law abiding and it is thought that they will cause no trouble while in this city. Chief of Police Davis, however, in order to prevent any possible degradation had Officer Eads stay in the vicinity of the grounds during the day and other officers were stationed last night in the west part of the city. The chief was also given orders that the women must not go out and tell fortunes or beg throughout the city. Several of the men were seen in the business part of the city yesterday, buying a few provisions and making some horse trades. With these exceptions, the gypsies scarcely left the ground all day.

PEOPLE VOTE AGAINST FRANCHISE

OPPOSE STREET RAILWAY MEASURE VERY DECISIVELY.

Ordinance Is Lost by Vote of 1271 to 387—One-Man Car Plan Meets With Vigorous Opposition—Dr. Clampt and G. S. Rogers Re-Elected to Board of Education.

The special election held Tuesday to decide upon the adoption of the proposed street railway franchise resulted in a decisive vote against the ordinance. There were 1658 votes cast, 1271 of them against the franchise and 387 in favor of it, the majority against being 884. In the third ward Dr. L. H. Clampt was re-elected a member of the board of education over Walter Smith by a majority of 216. George S. Rogers in the fourth ward was re-elected without any opposition, 388 votes being cast for him.

Decisive Figures. The vote in opposition to the proposed street railway franchise was probably more decisive than any one anticipated, although there had been a growing sentiment against the franchise apparent for several days. The strongest opposition was displayed in precinct No. 2 in the first ward where the vote was a little more than fourteen to one against the franchise. In the first precinct of the second ward the vote was a trifle greater than five to one and the figures were almost as decisive in the second precinct of the third ward.

The Trades Assembly at a recent meeting went on record as opposed to the franchise for the reason that while the company would pay to the city 2 per cent on gross earnings amounting to about $1,500 that the introduction of one-man cars would reduce the working force to the extent of five men and thus cut the pay roll about $3,000 or more. This argument appealed to a number of persons who voted "No" on the proposition.

Oppose One-Man Cars. Probably the greatest factor which contributed to the defeat of the franchise was the section allowing the use of one man cars. The public seems to be thoroughly opposed to such cars, believing that the service would not be as satisfactory as it is to day and that one-man cars would be a step backward instead of forward. A feature of the ordinance not thoroughly understood was the requirement made about possible interurbans. Many citizens were of the opinion that under the franchise the Jacksonville street railway would have a monopoly of the square and principal streets for railway purposes and might charge interurbans enough to make the price prohibitive. The people having expressed their disapproval of the franchise proposed the next step will be for the council and representatives of the company to try and agree on a franchise which they feel meets the main objections offered to the measure just defeated. There is of course the possibility that the matter will now get into the courts and be settled that way.

Board of Education Election. In the third ward a very lively contest was waged between Dr. L. H. Clampt, Republican candidate, and Walter N. Smith, Democratic candidate. Carriages were used by both sides and a big vote was polled. In the first precinct there were 243 votes for Dr. Clampt and 167 for Mr. Smith and in the second precinct 427 for Clampt and 287 for Smith. Dr. Clampt's majority was 216.

Over in the fourth ward George S. Rogers, Republican candidate, had no opposition at all and so no big effort was made to get out the full vote. In precinct No. 1, 136 votes were cast for Mr. Rogers and in precinct No. 2, 252 votes.

Y. M. C. A. CAMPAIGN BEGINS THIS MORNING

Solicitors Held Enthusiastic Meeting Tuesday Night at Christian Church—Details of Plan Presented.

The supper which was given Tuesday night at Central Christian church for the solicitors in the Y. M. C. A. campaign, was well attended and the enthusiasm and interest manifested agurs well for the success of this important undertaking. All churches in the city were represented. The work of canvassing will begin this morning, the city being blocked out, and it is expected to be concluded by Friday.

After the excellent menu prepared and served by the ladies' auxiliaries of the various churches had been disposed of the business of the evening was taken up. President J. H. Rayhill, Jr., called the meeting to order and spoke of the importance of the campaign. He said that the public at large was interested in the work of the association and that the people were certainly willing to take hold of this new plan for increasing and widening the influence of the Y. M. C. A.

C. L. Mathis next spoke setting forth the plan in detail as follows: It is the business of the Y. M. C. A. to assist in the religious, physical, intellectual, moral and social development of the young man—these things it proposes to do:

First. By means of religious talks and special lines of Bible study.

Second. Through its splendid gymnasium equipment, swimming pool, basketball, baseball, etc.

Third. By stereopticon and moving pictures, electric bulletins of latest news, local and otherwise, night schools, etc.

Fourth. Through occasional medical lectures by prominent Christian physicians; also temperance talks.

Fifth. By music, games, reading room, etc.

In order to broaden the work of the Y. M. C. A. it is proposed that whenever the very reasonable conditions heretofore mentioned are met by those who are interested in the boys that should there be no objection by parent or guardian the superintendents of the various Sunday schools may issue to every boy of proper age enrolled in the schools a Y. M. C. A. membership ticket for balance of the year 1912, which when approved by the secretary of the Y. M. C. A. will entitle him to the privileges of the institution, the ticket to remain in force on condition that the owner comply with the rules and regulations of the Y. M. C. A. and attend Sunday school at least three Sundays in each month.

Fourth. Through occasional medical lectures by prominent Christian physicians; also temperance talks.

Fifth. By music, games, reading room, etc.

Stops Lameness

Sloan's Liniment is a reliable remedy for any kind of horse lameness. Will kill the growth of spavin, curb or splint, absorb enlargements, and is excellent for swellings, fistula and thrush.

Here's Proof.

The Kitchen Floor

Most housekeepers would prefer to keep the kitchen floor unpainted and "in the white," were it not for the labor of keeping such a floor in satisfactory condition. However, the work of scrubbing will be lightened and milk white floors can be easily attained, by dissolving in each pailful of warm water a tablespoon of Gold Dust washing powder. If scrubbed this way each week old stains that seem to be ground into the wood will soon disappear altogether. This is also excellent for scrubbing stone steps and woodwork.

FROM CRACKER'S BEND.

D. K. McCarty of Cracker's Bend made a trip to the city with Elmer Smith. He says the roads are getting dry, but are very rough and need dragging badly. Grace Chapel and the people with it are prosperous. The Sunday school and church services are going right along and things generally are favorable. Spring work is much delayed by unfavorable weather but there is lots of time yet for seed time and harvest. The Indian creek drainage work still wins good opinions.

The Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary societies of Northminster church will meet Thursday afternoon at 2:30 in the community room of the church. Mrs. J. J. Vieira will lead the devotional and Mrs. Lena Frye will be the leader in literary.

GOOD HEALTH

How To Keep It

How To Get It Back

In this column we will discuss Health and Disease and questions of general interest will be answered by responsible members of the regular medical profession. Those not proper for publication will be answered by mail if accompanied by addressed and stamped envelope, provided they do not relate to a disease from which the patient is then suffering. For such diagnosis and advice as to treatment consult your family physician.

The Public Health in Newspapers.

The wonderful awakening in Public Health questions is fully reflected by the large number of editorials and well written articles in recent issues of public press in various parts of the country well reflects the activity of the public mind on these subjects. We are glad to have the opportunity to quote a few of these in order that our readers may understand that the Journal is fully in line in devoting several columns each week to subject dealing with the public and individual health.

Medical Progress.

The following is quoted from a discussion in the Rochester Post-Express on a recent address of Dr. William H. Welch of Baltimore, delivered in New York:

"It is not unusual for persons who take pessimistic views to belittle the work of the great medical profession. But facts, which are stubborn things, proclaim the marvelous achievements of the doctors in no magnificent fashion. Dr. William H. Welch in his address to the third anniversary of the Presbyterian hospital in New York cited statistics which prove that during the past half century twelve years have been added to the period of human existence. Since the first records were taken in New York City in the sixties the rate of mortality has been reduced from 27 deaths in each thousand to 15 in each thousand."

After commenting on Dr. Welch's discussion of the duty of a university to aid medical research, it continues:

"The welfare of mankind is the aim of the physician. As civilization advances it will be more clearly realized by even the most conservative members of the medical profession that prevention is better than cure. The preservation of the public health must really promote the interests of the profession generally. For the need of the doctor to prevent from contracting diseases as much as to conquer it when we have contracted it."

The Pursuit of Quackery.

The following is quoted from an excellent editorial in the Minneapolis Tribune:

"No one who has seen Hennepin County Medical society has gotten a glimpse of the mess, with the intentions in the world of high public service. It is trying, like many other American societies, to perform a duty that should not be put on any profession, least of all that sworn to the noblest human service."

"The medical profession has enough to do without being put on the defensive against those who would degrade it. The pursuit of quackery is not its proper function, but the duty of the state. The profession should be so licensed and regulated that the very fact of ability to practice would be a guaranty of competence and integrity."

"The profession has no superior body like the courts to aid it in self-purification by a process like disbarment. It cannot undertake self censorship without evoking the merely human sentiment of jealousy, envy of success and bare personal dislike to corrupt its evidence and pervert its judgements. It should be purified from without and above."

The same paper continues to discuss the various ways in which the state has neglected and degraded the medical profession as follows:

"The neglect of the state has degraded the highest service to humanity to a struggle for existence. They have families to support, like the rest of us. The fittest to survive will get position by Nature's vilest standard of strength and persistence in pursuit, as often as by the more refined standard of science."

"High minded doctors so compelled to denounce by unselfish service to humanity. They give more of the free service to the poor than the rare masters who can pick and choose patients. They draw sustenance from them who have it to to worse things. The doctor habit is ineradicable. It is something for those who can afford it to indulge in without suffering real harm."

"Of course every sham bears fruit of evil, at some degree of distasteful. Probably this harmfulness has done more than anything else to breed in the American public that distrust of the highest achievements of science in surgery and vital chemistry we find in men who should know better."

"Gibes at mining for gold in the human abdomen and at leg-pulling to pension surplus doctors in orphaned research laboratories are not heard in countries that protect science from the temptation and opportunity for money chasing."

"It is the state that exposes its noblest servants to inevitable debasement of service by fostering illegitimate gain for some the pure alternative of starvation."

Criticising the Doctors.

This is the caption of an editorial in the Syracuse Post Standard from which the following is quoted:

"Medical orthodoxy has not been much more immune to criticism than religious orthodoxy has. If on the one hand men have been burned at the stake for reading the Bible or stoned to death for preaching Christianity, on the practice of medicine, according to the school that has from time to time been orthodox, has not been small. The practice of medicine has spent a great deal of time in groping toward the light and there are not many who believe that it has yet reached full and perfect illumination.

"Honest criticism and competition, therefore, should be welcomed by members of the prevailing body of opinion in the profession of healing. It is exasperating to them and to all sensible folks to see, the number of persons who choose to trust their lives and the lives of their children to methods of healing that are frankly and obviously unscientific, but the law, no matter how urgently appealed to, cannot go beyond a very moderate limit in forcing people to shun any method that may appeal to them."

"The law can, should and does say something about fake remedies for disease, and guaranteeing the cure of consumption, cancer and the like, and the American Medical association has rendered notable aid to the cause of square dealing by the agitation against quacks and nostrums. Against its efficiency in that respect its most violent critics can have nothing to say. These critics, and in particular the small, but excitable periodical called Medical Freedom, are in particularly poor business when they make jokes or such subjects as the campaign against yellow fever in the tropics and against inoculation against typhoid. The American Medical association deserves more dignified and sensible opposition than can be furnished by a periodical which hasn't yet learned that the war against the nostrum is what made possible the building of the Panama canal."</

Anna Held's Opinion of An Automobile

Seattle, Washington, Gentlemen:

I cannot help but say that the big, luxurious Oakland car that took me so easily and comfortably around your beautiful boulevard is the easiest riding American built car I have seen. Of course, my foreign machines cost me thousands of dollars, but this is the first American built car that I ever thought of buying.

Respectfully yours,
Anna Held.

You will note by Miss Held's letter that she has had experience with foreign built cars which cost her thousands of dollars. You will also note carefully that the Oakland, the first American built car that she ever thought of buying, is the high priced, foreign made car. This is one of the best tributes that has ever been paid the Oakland, and, coming as it does from a woman who is in a position to judge of the comparative merits of high priced cars and medium cars, it should carry great weight.

Baby's Voice

Every woman's heart responds to the charm and sweetness of a baby's voice, because nature intended her for motherhood. But even the loving nature of a mother shrinks from the ordeal because such a time is usually a period of suffering and danger. Women who use Mother's Friend are saved much discomfort and suffering, and their systems, being thoroughly prepared by this great remedy, are in a healthy condition to meet the time with the least possible suffering and danger. Mother's Friend is recommended only for the relief and comfort of expectant mothers; it is in no sense a remedy for various ills, but in many years of success, and the thousands of endorsement received from women who have used it are a guarantee of the benefit to be derived from its use. This remedy does not accomplish wonders, but simply assists nature to perfect its work. Mother's Friend allays nausea, prevents caking of the breasts, and contributes in every way to strong, healthy motherhood. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. ## PLAYGROUND ASSOCIATION.

The Directors Meet, Elect Officers and Transact Other Business.

The Playground Association may now be regarded as fairly launched in our city and now the hope is that the enterprise will be so heartily endorsed that it will be a grand success. The directors had a fine meeting yesterday afternoon in the office of the Farmers' Bank and Trust company, where they regularly organized and transacted important business.

Rev. Clyde Barsie was chosen chairman of the meeting and Miss Louis Capps secretary.

The first business of the meeting was the election of officers and the following were unanimously elected: Frank J. Heint, president.

Mrs. A. L. Adams, vice-president. Mrs. C. E. Cole, secretary.

A special committee on director for the playground was chosen and consisted of F. J. Heint, Mrs. A. L. Adams, Mrs. C. E. Cole, A. Wehl and S. W. Nichols.

These were chosen with power to act.

A publicity committee was chosen consisting of G. E. Doyne, Mrs. J. A. Parsons, Miss Louise Capps, Dr. David Reid and S. W. Nichols.

The needs and welfare of the playground were generally discussed and a present manifested a fine interest in the enterprise and several who were not able to be present sent word to that effect and expressed their desire for the success of the movement.

S. W. Nichols reported that the city administration had kindly supplied a team and man and grading and preparation of the ground had been done. The appliances in the way of swings, teeters, giant strides and various other things were being prepared and would be placed in position as soon as possible. There will be a good equipment and the hope is that it will answer the needs of the ground for the first year at least.

Mr. Nichols also reported that he had leased the vacant lot south of the farm house and that the playground will now extend from Independence avenue to Dunlap street, a distance almost equal to the length of the public square.

It is hoped that the apparatus will largely be in place by the first of May, though it cannot be definitely stated. It is the intention to have a number of out door settees for the mothers and visitors and the shade on the small lot will be fully utilized.

NAPLES.

We are now having bright sunny days and warm weather along with our recent rains, makes the grass and pastures look very green and pretty.

The winter wheat will be only a partial crop. Those farmers who were fortunate to sow hard wheat will reap a crop, as it withstood the hard and cold winter better and is now looking fairly well, but the soft wheat sown is not so good and was killed in patches, and many will plow it up and plant the land in corn.

For the past two days the river has been falling about one and a half inches in 24 hours. Yet the river is very high and still close up to base of levee on Front street in Naples.

Many farmers and tenants in the river bottom have moved their families to higher ground. The high water in the Illinois river valley has wonderfully reared spring work and scores of farmers are very anxious to see the water recede so they can move back and get busy, but in this locality no loss of life by high water, as the Illinois river rises gradually and always gives the people warning so all may arrange for protection of their families and livestock.

Many fine fish are now being caught.

The steamer Bald Eagle now makes regular trips and looks grand coming into port high up on the full river.

The National Elevator Co. continues to get considerable corn by boat. Corn is high as a cat's back and many farmers are willing to let go of their surplus.

We expect a fine corn crop this year. Some one said, "A deep water way." We're not it now, but it is not the right kind. What the people want and in the near future will have, is a 14 foot channel from Joliet to St. Louis by taking out the federal dams and dredging well the river and levee the districts not now leveed. This will redeem thousands of acres of the best corn land in the state and make prosperous homes for thousands of industrious people. We hope to see congress get busy at once and help in this grand undertaking to complete the work, which will wonderfully augment the wealth of Illinois.

It is no exaggeration to say this low priced land now, it absolutely redeemed from overflow in one or two decades will sell for $250 per acre or more. There is no better corn land on the American continent.

QUICK RELIEF FOR RHEUMATISM

George W. Koons, Lawton, Mich., says: "Dr. Detchon's Relief for Rheumatism has given my wife wonderful benefit for rheumatism. She could not lift hand or foot, had to be lifted for two months. She began the use of the remedy and improved rapidly. On Monday she could not move and on Wednesday she got up, dressed herself and walked out for breakfast. Sold by L. P. Allcott, druggist."

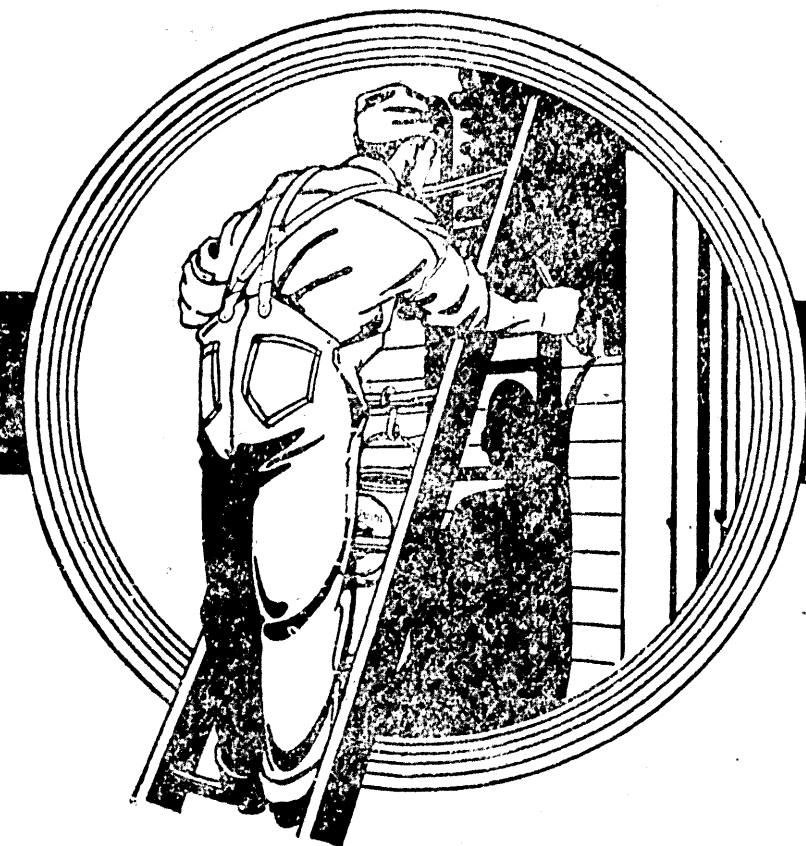

William Mason went to Manchester yesterday on business interests.
